Foreword

This volume of Geographica Pannonica marks the retirement of Professor Branislav S. Đurđev as Editor in chief of our journal. Professor Đurđev has been Editor in chief since the first volume appeared in 1997. Over the ensuing 8 years and same number of volumes, his contributions to Geographica Pannonica have included the encouragement, reviewing, refereeing, editing, and production of volumes focused on many geographical aspects of Pannonian area and surrounding regions. The contributions of this volume of Geographica Pannonica follow previous editorial concept which established this journal as one of the most important in Serbian geographical literature.

We welcome new members of the editorial team Professor Erzsébet Horváth, Dr. Ulrich Hambach, and Dr. Darko Ogrin and wish them much success in future collaborative work. We would like to thank Marija Nićin and Stanka Radojičić for their considerable help in improving the English text. Finally, we wish to acknowledge the great effort spent by many colleagues who willingly reviewed manuscripts. Without their efforts, a volume of this quality would not have been possible.
